

Australian Desert Rosewood Oil

AUSTRALIA'S ANTIMICROBIAL LUXURY

Australia's Natural Fixative Alternative to Sandalwood and Oud

SANDALOILSAU

Product Overview

THE DESERT'S LIVING RESIN

Olfactory Profile

Woody, balsamic, slightly smoky, with warm amber undertones. Distinctly resinous with hints of desert earth and soft leather. Lighter and cleaner than Buddha wood, richer than sandalwood.

Key Information

Botanical Name

Eremophila mitchellii

Origin

Outback New South Wales

Extraction

Steam distilled and refined using Sandal Oils
Australia's proprietary purification method

Plant Part

Heartwood

Colour

Golden to Amber Yellow

SANDALOILSAU

Perfume & Fine Fragrance Ingredient Sheet

- Natural fixative properties from high molecular weight sesquiterpenes (eremophilanes, viscidane diterpenes).
- Long-lasting base note with slow evaporation rate and exceptional blending stability.
- Adds depth and warmth to woody, amber, oriental, and resinous compositions.
- Ideal in oil perfumes, attars, incense bases, and niche alcohol blends.
- Naturally antimicrobial, contributing to improved perfume shelf life.

POSITIONING

A new woody base from the heart of the Australian desert.
Clean, resilient, and traceable.

Australian Desert Rosewood™ delivers long-lasting warmth, natural preservation, and the quiet power of the desert.

Scientific Sustainability & Highlights

- Sustainably harvested from naturally regenerated Outback woodlands.
- Low oxidation reactivity for stability in natural blends.
- Aboriginal heritage: traditionally used for healing and cleansing.

HERITAGE & SUSTAINABILITY

Used for centuries by Indigenous Australians to cleanse, heal, and protect, Eremophila embodies the spirit of resilience. Sandal Oils Australia continues this legacy through responsible sourcing and innovation in refining methods that preserve both purity and potency.

SANDALOILSAU

Compliance & Disclaimer

The information contained in this document is provided by Sandal Oils Australia for educational and formulation guidance purposes only. It is based on published research conducted by recognised Australian universities and independent scientific sources investigating compounds present in Eremophila mitchellii (Australian Desert Rosewood).

Sandal Oils Australia does not make therapeutic, cosmetic, or functional claims regarding this essential oil or its components. The data presented herein should be used as a guideline only. It remains the responsibility of the manufacturer, formulator, or brand to conduct their own due diligence, regulatory assessments, and product-specific research before commercial use.

Comprehensive R&D summaries and technical reports are available to qualified partners upon request.

Australian Desert Rosewood™ and Nature's Antimicrobial Luxury™ are trademarks of Sandal Oils Australia.

CONFORMANCE & COMPLIANCE

- Compliant with IFRA guidelines for essential oils (category limits apply).
- Registered with AICIS (Australia) as a fragrance and cosmetic ingredient.
- Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS) and Certificate of Analysis (COA) available upon request.

Get in Touch

Producers of fine Australian essential oils and native bioactives for perfumery, cosmetics, and wellness industries.

